MUCH MONEY FOR SUGAR BEET CROP

According to the various sugar companies of the state, the 1913 sugar beet crop of Utah showed a decided increase over that of 1912, being approximately 495,000 tons for 1913 as compared with 425,000 tons last year. About $2,475,000 was paid out to farmers of the state this year, an increase of $250,000 over 1912. There were about 36,000 acres planted in sugar beets as compared with 334,000 in 1912. The output of the factories is said, does not correspond with the increase of the crops, owing to the fact that there has been a material falling off in the quality of the beets.

NEW NICKELS ARE GOOD MONEY

Federal officials say there is no cause for the recent alarm among merchants and bankers at finding variations in the buffalo nickel. They say that some fault was found with the new 5-cent piece when it first appeared and after several thousand coins were issued, a new die was made making the words "five cents" appear more plainly. As a result there are two kinds of Buffalo nickels in circulation.

SMITH'S MANAGER IS HOPEFUL OF RESULT
(By W. W. Naughton.)
San Francisco, Dec. 24.—While Jim Buckley, manager of Gunboat Smith, is extremely confident that his heavy-weight will defeat Arthur Pelkey at Daly City on New Year's day, his faith in the gunner is not causing him to make the mistake of counting chickens before they are hatched. Within the last day or two Buckley has received a cablegram from a leading French promoter in which Gunboat is offered a match in Paris with either Georges Carpentier or Sam Langford.

"Did you accept?" Buckley was asked.
"Not yet," was the reply. "It will be time enough to do that when the Gunboat-Pelkey battle has been fought. I do not suppose they would want Smith if Pelkey beat him."

There's a touch of chivalry about Buckley's actions in the matter, but while he intends to be thoroughly sure of his ground for making receipt of the offer from Paris, he has practically decided what he will do in the event of Gunboat winning from Pelkey.

"If it had not been for Jack Johnson breaking his arm with the other Johnson Gunboat would have looked for a match with Jack and no one else," said Buckley. "Smith has beaten Langford once and that should be enough, especially in a case like this, when every tough opponent you dispose of means a step nearer the championship. With Jack Johnson out of it for several months, as he will be, if indeed he ever fights again, it is a horse of another color. We will be quite willing to meet either Langford or Carpentier and will journey to Paris, if necessary, to make a match. We would prefer, though, to box in this country. Sam Langford is barred in New York, but I will give Carpentier a personal guarantee of $10,000 if he will agree to meet Gunboat there within the next few days. If this offer is not accepted it will be a case of packing our trunks and crossing the water, for there will be no one left on this side for Gunboat to box."

OFFERS BUILDINGS AT AUCTION
Salmon, Ida., Dec. 24.—A dispatch from Washington, D. C., states that the buildings and grounds of the Fort Lemhi Indian agency will shortly be sold at public auction. By an act of congress passed last July, the state of Idaho was given a preference right to buy this property. It was thought that the Idaho legislature would take advantage of this right and use the buildings for some state purpose, but nothing was done by the legislature, and the valuable buildings are rapidly deteriorating in value. The cost of the buildings was about $100,000. Shortly after their construction the Indians were all removed to the Fort Hall reservation. An offer of $10,000 was refused by the Indian department about three years ago.

LOPEZ SEARCH TO BE RENEWED

Bingham, Dec. 24.—Though Sheriff Smith is reticent as to the time when the bulkheads in the Andy tunnel will be removed to admit searchers for Lopez, it was generally understood here at an early hour this morning that the underground hunt will be resumed tomorrow morning.

While opinions as to whether or not the Mexican is still in the mine are much at variance, yet the interest in the possibility is reviving with the approach of the time when the mooted question will be decided. Some believe that the bandit has not been in the mine since shortly after the killing of J. Douglas Hulsey and Thomas Manderich on November 28. Some who credit the story of Samuel Rogers, the shift boss who told of having twice met Lopez in the Andy tunnel December 10 and 11, believe that the Mexican has made his escape since that time. Still others believe the story of Rogers implicitly and are firmly convinced that Lopez is still in the Andy workings and will be found there either dead or alive when the search is made.

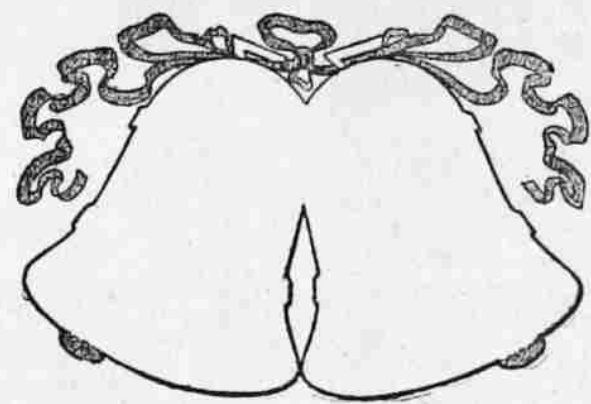

The theory that the Mexican might have gone down from the three-hundred or Andy level to the four hundred level through one of several abandoned stopes that are said one time to have connected the levels, is scouted by most of those familiar with this section of the mine. At the beginning of the hunt in the mine, the fact of the existence of the stopes was called to the attention of Foreman Thomas Hosking. He gave the opinion that it would be impossible for anyone to get through them. When the party led by S. S. Jones searched the four hundred level both before and after the Andy workings were closed by the bulkheads, no way between the two levels was found other than the Andy incline. Such of the stopes as were tested out were found impassable. The investigation made by Sheriff Andrew Smith, Jr., under the guidance of a miner Tuesday afternoon did not result in proving that a way between the two levels existed that would make it possible for a man to get through.

The fact remains, however, that at no time has the question of possibility of escape by this way been absolutely proved by actual test of all the stopes. The reason for this was the generally accepted judgment of those familiar with the ground that the thing was impossible.

For Lopez to get to the 400 level by any means would still leave him with the problem of passing guards who have been stationed on the 700 level without intermission since the hunt in the mine began. Other outlets from this part of the mine have been either guarded or bulkheaded, making the escape from the mine an unsolved problem even after the refuge should have gained the 400 level. According to those in charge of the guards, nothing that might be regarded as evidence that the Mexican is in the Andy workings has occurred since a light was reported inside the Andy tunnel bulkhead the morning after the workings were closed.

EUREKA GUNNERS TO HOLD ANOTHER RABBIT HUNT
Eureka, Utah, Dec. 25.—The big rabbit hunt which was pulled off a week ago last Sunday was such a success that arrangements are now being made to hold another during January. Andrew P. Mayberry, one of the leaders of the last hunt, was in Salt Lake

MERRY CHRISTMAS

SNOWSLIDES ON WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD

The first of the week and called upon J. H. Manderfield of the Salt Lake Route in reference to securing a special train. Mr. Mayberry states that he believes it will be possible to arrange for another excursion.

About one hundred and fifty from Eureka made the trip on the last hunt and it is believed that fully twice that many will attend the next big roundup. Another feature which appeals to the sportsmen is the fact that the board of county commissioners has instructed the county clerk to pay a bounty of 5 cents a pair for jack rabbit ears, and the hunters are confident they can raise enough money to pay the expenses of a big dance. Something over 2200 rabbits were killed on the last hunt.

HIGH TENSION LINE COMPLETED

Salt Lake, Dec. 25.—Completion of the high tension line of the Utah Power & Light company's steel tower transmission system from Grace, Idaho, to Salt Lake was celebrated by the officers and employees of the Phoenix Construction company at a dinner at the Hotel Utah last night.

More than 150 of the men who have been instrumental in the completion of what is said to be the second largest power transmission line in the United States were present. It cost more than $3,000,000. All who took part in the work of erecting the transmission line were remembered by the Phoenix company. They were entertained at dinner at the various towns through which the line passes, but the real celebration making it possible to bring power from the Idaho power site to Buena Vista within the limits of Salt Lake was reserved for the engineers, the superintendents and the foremen at the Hotel Utah dinner last night.

All of the men who had actual supervision of the work were called to Salt Lake to be present at the banquet. J. D. Evans, vice president and general manager of the company; P. L. Pierce, superintendent of construction; W. C. Hibbard, general superintendent of construction; Markham Choever, chief engineer of the Utah Power & Light company, and Dr. D. C. Budge, chief surgeon of the construction company, tendered a dinner to the men who completed the transmission line.

P. J. Moran, a director in the Utah Power & Light company, was present at the dinner as the representative of the company for which the line was built. It is expected that the Utah Power & Light company will begin to deliver power into the Salt Lake suburb within two weeks.

WAR VETERAN DIES.
Cokeville, Wyo., Dec. 24.—Charles Larzelere, 75 years of age, a veteran of the Civil war and pioneer newspaper man of Kansas, died of heart disease. He is survived by a younger brother in Kansas.

Trains over the Western Pacific yesterday were detained over the Southern Pacific on account of the landslides in the Feather River canyon. Passengers eastbound out of San Francisco and California points the being held in the canyon aboard train No. 2, which is on the west side of the slides. Western Pacific trains starting from San Francisco yesterday were transferred to the Southern Pacific at Sacramento, and those westbound were sent from Salt Lake to Oregon and transferred to the Southern Pacific there. The landslide will delay traffic over the Western Pacific for at least forty-eight hours it is said.

Heavy rains in California are responsible for the landslides and it was reported here that many tons of rock and earth now cover the tracks so that it will be almost impossible to run trains through until Friday. Western Pacific trains running west from Salt Lake are carrying passengers only for points east of Portal, which is the entrance of the canyon. Through passengers will be detained over the Southern Pacific until the slides have been cleared up.

GREEK AT BINGHAM WOUNDS TWO COUNTRYMEN

Bingham, Dec. 24.—As a result of a gun play in Upper Bingham yesterday afternoon, one man is in the county jail and two are in the Holy Cross hospital, while the man at whom the shots are said to have been fired is in good health.

The shooting took place in the Independent Grocery store when Louis Troumpas is said to have opened fire on Tony Georgakos, Georgakos, whom Troumpas is alleged to have threatened with death, escaped injury, while two innocent bystanders stopped three bullets. Harry Panagos, 21 years of age, was wounded in the right hip and again in the right thigh. William Kalozimis, 19 years of age, was struck in the right leg just above the ankle by a bullet which lodged against the shin bone.

An alarm was telephoned to police headquarters at Bingham and Patrolman L. G. Gordy jumped on a horse standing in front of the police station and raced for Upper Bingham. He arrested Troumpas within a short time after the shooting and took him to jail. Later the prisoner was brought to Salt Lake by Deputy Sheriff R. L. Eddington. The wounded men were given attention by Dr. David H. Ray and later brought to Salt Lake. All of the men are Greeks. The trouble is said to have started over a difference at which time Troumpas is said to have threatened to kill his countryman, who escaped the bullets said to have been meant for him.

NO CAUSE ACTION IN HARRIS CASE

After being out two hours, the jury in the case of W. G. Harris against W. B. Wedell returned a verdict of no cause of action yesterday evening. Judge N. J. Harris then dismissed the suit. Harris sued Wedell for $30,000, claiming that in the house he rented from Wedell was a defective telephone and that his son was killed by lightning last June because Wedell had constructed a telephone system without protection from lightning.

JUDGE ORDERED TO GIVE A DECISION

Salt Lake, Dec. 25.—A writ of mandate forcing Judge M. L. Ritchie of the district court to make findings of facts and conclusions of law in the divorce suit brought by Axel Benson against Anna Benson was issued by the supreme court yesterday. The judge of the lower court is given five days in which to comply with the writ.

After Benson sued for divorce December 10 of this year, charging his wife with cruelty. The court held that the charge was not sustained and held up the suit, suggesting that it be brought on other grounds or else be continued until a charge of desertion could be entered.

In the meantime Mrs. Benson had filed a cross complaint and to force a decision in her case she applied to the supreme court for a writ. An alternative writ was issued last week

NEW POSTMASTER AT POCATELLO

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 24.—P. C. O'Malley, who has been appointed postmaster of Pocatello, by President Wilson, is a prominent attorney of this city and was formerly city attorney. He has lived in Idaho four years, most of that time being spent in Pocatello.

Mr. O'Malley was born in Allamakee county, Iowa, in 1875 and engaged in farming there until he was 33 years of age. He moved to Hallock, Minn., where he engaged in the real estate business, then moved to Helling, N.D., and engaged in the same business. In 1890 he went to Oregon and entered the Oregon Law school, graduated from that school with honors, and was admitted to the bar of Idaho in 1910.

In 1911 Mr. O'Malley was elected city attorney and was Democratic candidate for state senator in 1912. His appointment meets with general approval by the citizens of this part of the state.

Mr. O'Malley will probably take over the duties of his new office on January 1, 1914.

GREAT STURGEON CAUGHT IN RIVER

Salmon, Ida., Dec. 24.—A sturgeon, weighing 245 pounds, was captured near the bridge Monday afternoon. It measured 8 feet 8 inches in length and is the largest fish ever caught in this district. The fish was first seen by boys who went home and reported that a whale was in the Turner slough. A stove poker was taken to the blacksmith shop and fashioned into a double barbed spear. To this a clothesline was attached, and the boys boarded a boat and started out on their "whale hunt."
